BRAINERD POLICE NOTIFIED. MANY CARS STOPPED

The Brainerd police department received notice of the train robbery on the main line of the Northern Pacific at an early hour this morning. The members of the department at once started out to head off any suspicious characters who were driving the roads. They had a description of the car and seeing cars answering the description of the one supposed to carry the bandits, they stopped them. Altogether they brought five cars to a halt. One of these contained one of our industrious doctors who had been making a professional call in Fort Ripley and the occupant of the car, Dr. G. I. Badaux, announced to the members of the local police force that he conceded that Brainerd has "some" police department.

St. Paul, Feb. 19—Two men, believed to have robbed the mail car on the North Coast Limited on the Northern Pacific of $300,000, were captured at Little Falls early today after a running revolver fight with deputies.

One of the deputies and one of the alleged bandits were wounded in the fight. C. E. Strong, a mail clerk, was wounded when he attempted to resist the bandits.

Deputies in the automobile met the two men at the outskirts of Little Falls. They opened fire in order to halt them and the gun fight raged while the automobiles raced over one mile. The loot was not recovered. A mask and several weapons were found in the automobile in which the two men were attempting to escape.
The accused men gave their names as Buck Allen and Bob Ford.

The train was held up at Bailey, Minn. The bandits had boarded the mail car at St. Cloud. Mail Clerk Strong was forced to bind the other two clerks and then he was locked in the locker. When Strong attempted to break from the locker he was shot. Other members of the crew did not know of the robbery until the train reached Minneapolis, and the mail clerks were found bound. The bandits had left the train at a suburb of Minneapolis.

Brainerd Rumors Heard

Passengers coming into the city on the trains and those who have had long distance conversations, offer additional information which they have picked up. How much of these are rumors and how much facts we are unable to say. One man who had talked with Minneapolis during the morning, was informed that the men picked up by the police were not thought to be the bandits. It was said that the evidence pointed to these being bootleggers.

Another report that came over the long distance wires but not through the United Press during the morning, was to the effect that the express man was shot three times in the stomach and died before the train bearing him to Minneapolis, arrived in that city.
Some of these rumors may be confirmed and some denied by later messages over the press wires.

WITHDRAW YANK REPRESENTATION ON REPARATIONS

LAST OFFICIAL CONNECTION OF U.
S. WITH ENFORCEMENT VER-SAILLES TREATY

SEVERED AND AMERICAN TROOPS
HOME SOON FROM COB-
LENZ, GERMANY
(United Press)

Paris, Feb. 19—Withdrawal of American representation on the reparation commission formerly announced today by Roland W. Boyden, has severed the last official connection of the United States with enforcement of the treaty of Versailles.
American troops still remain on the Coblentz area, but their position is regarded as diplomatically untenable, and they are expected to be ordered home at once. Their abandonment of that section of the Rhine territory it is believed, will mean that their place will be taken by French forces.

Occupation of the Coblentz area by French troops will permit France to make another military demonstration against Germany in keeping with the warning sounded yesterday by Premier Briand. He declared that while "France does not wish to act independently of her allies, she is in a position to carry out on her own responsibility the provision of the peace treaty which provides for military action."

that "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," how about a thousand of them?

Promoters of a fashion show advertised for two hundred models and about twelve hundred responded last night. They made the practical error of trying to do the accepting and rejecting in the presence of others. Employees of the Pennsylvania Hotel where the riot took place, were still engaged today in gathering hatpins, shreds of clothing, wisps of hair and bits of complexion from the remains

TYPHUS MAY BREAK OUT BECAUSE OF VERMIN INFECTION

WAVE OF EUROPEAN IMMIGRANTS NOT THOROUGHLY INSPECT-ED AT FIRST

STATEMENT ISSUED BY DR. ROY-AL COPELAND, NEW YORK
HEALTH COMMISSIONER
(United Press)

New York, Feb. 19—The typhus may break out in any part of the United States as the result of vermin-infested European immigrants being admitted by federal officials, according to Dr. Royal Copeland, city health commissioner.

In an interview with the United Press today, Copeland declared that development of three typhus cases in Corkland, near Syracuse, New York, indicated that disease carriers had penetrated some sections of the country.

"There is no means of telling how many infected with typhus or carrying the dread typhus germ got by before we established the re-examination program now in force," Copeland said.

"The period of incubation for the typhus germ is twelve to twenty days.
For that reason we may expect to know shortly whether any persons already infected with the disease were admitted to the country before we took the present precaution."

Sanitation Battle Under Way

Washington, Feb. 19—Sergeant Gen-been reported with increased frequency.

Dr. Cumming, who took charge of the New York harbor quarantine following discovery of more than twenty cases of typhus aboard the Atlantic liner, will soon have available $300, 000 in New York as a typhus prevention fund. This sum was voted into a bill now in its final stage of passage in congress.

TRI-STATE PHONE CO. WANTS HIGHER RATES IN STATE

FILES PETITION WITH THE
UNITED STATES DISTRICT
COURT FOR INJUNCTION

TO RESTRAIN WAREHOUSE COM-MISSION FROM ENFORCING
ITS DECISION
(United Press)

St. Paul, Feb. 19—The Tri-State Telephone company today renewed its fight for higher rates in Minnesota.
The company filed a petition with the United States district court for an injunction restraining the state railroad and warehouse commission from enforcing its decision denying the company the right to increase its rates.

When the commission's decision was announced Commissioner Putnam issued a statement explaining why he dissented from the ruling. He claimed the decision was unconstitutional.
Commissioners Jacobson and Mills concurred in both the Tri-State and Northwestern Telephone companies permission to increase rates.

OWED $2,000 AND TURNED BANDIT

(By United Press)

Harrison, Ark., Feb. 19—"I was in debt $2,000 and I didn't have the money so I turned bank robber again," said Harry Starr, the "praying bandit," who was shot through the spine while he was opening the safe in an attempt to rob the bank of Harrison.

Following his release from the Oklahoma penitentiary several years ago where he was serving a 25 year sentence, the bank robber, Starr, announced he had reformed.

When Starr and his companions backed President Meyers and other bank employees in the vault yesterday, the 65 year old president emerged through a trap door and began firing with a rifle. A bullet clipped Starr's spinal column.

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 19—Food is now 21.5 per cent cheaper to the consumer than six months ago, Ethelbert Stewart, government price expert, announced today.

"The decline seems to be a really substantial development in the general price situation," said Stewart.
"They are not based on seasonal changes which are so often deceptive.
It is impossible to predict how long it will continue."

Stewart's announcement is based on prices selected by the labor department continually from 51 big cities.
The department each month gets price quotations of nearly fifty articles of food from these cities.

WISCONSIN STATE BANK HELD UP

(By United Press)

Stockholm, Wis., Feb. 19—The State Bank of Stockholm, Wis., was held up at 9:40 this morning. The bandits were reported to be enroute toward
St. Paul.

Police of the twin cities were notified and are guarding all roads. H.
R. Anderson, cashier of the bank, said the bandits secured $1900 in currency and $400 in silver.

He saw an automobile cross Lake Pepin. It stopped in front of the bank and one of the men entered. He drew a gun and demanded the money.
The cashier started handing it out.
A customer entered and the bandit turned the gun on him. The customer fled and the bandit followed. He jumped into the automobile which was driven rapidly away. The men were seen on the road to Hudson and were believed to be headed for St.
Paul.

forts to reach Calcutta, according to reports received here.

The reports were fragmentary.
They did not indicate whether there had been an actual clash or whether there were any casualties on either fear for the safety of the Christian population, numbering about 10,000 of the city's 200,000 inhabitants.

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Kan., Feb. 19—Alexander Howat, district president of the United Mine Workers, has been ordered by the industrial court to call off the strike in the Macle mines that drew him a year's jail sentence for contempt of court. At the same time the industrial court removed contention of the strike by settling the con-trovercy of the age of Karl Miamash, and ordered the company to pay the boy about $225 in back pay. Howat said he presumed the men would go back to work when the boy was paid.

DIVERSION OF EUROPEAN IMMI- GRATION TO WEST

TAKING IT TO PACIFIC PORTS URGED BY HEAD OF NATION-AL MARINE LEAGUE

CLAIMED TO RELIEVE CONGES-TION OF EASTERN CITIES, DIS-TRIBUTE FOREIGN LABOR
(United Press)

New York, Feb. 19—Diversion of European immigrants to Pacific ports was urged today by T. H. W. Ross, president of the National Marine League, in an interview with the United Press.

Ross declared that such a move would result in the following advantages:

Better distribution of foreign labor; relief of congestion in eastern cities; furnishing the western cities higher class labor than the present Oriental and Mexican element; greater opportunity to the better type of immigrants.

Ross suggested that several private owned shipping companies were not inclined to co-operate in such a plan.
Government owned vessels, operated by the United States shipping board, could be employed to carry immigrants from Europe to the Pacific coast through the Panama canal.

Considers Immigration Harmful

Washington, Feb. 19—Immigration at this time is harmful to both health and industry of the country, senators declared today in opposition to the new immigration measure now before the senate.

The typhus menace stirred the foe of immigration to a new effort to shut off the human flood from Europe.

This group, led by Senators Harrison of Mississippi, Johnson of California, and Harris of Georgia, urged complete exclusion of immigration for a year or at least more drastic legislation than that urged by the Dillingham measure. This bill would permit entrance of five per cent of the number of foreigners of any nationality now residents in the United States.

Agree on Amendment

Washington, Feb. 19—By unanimous vote the senate agreed to an amendment to the Dillingham immigration bill lowering to three per cent of the number now in this country of aliens to be admitted in any one year.
The Dillingham measure limited the number to five per cent.

Paderewski Will Play Again, Pianist Holds

Minneapolis, Feb. 19—Paderewski's announcement that he will give up concert playing does not mean that the great pianist will be lost to the American public, in the opinion of Donald Jonson, one handed pianist and protégé of the Polish musician, who is the piano soloist at the State theatre this week. "I don't believe Paderewski can give up playing," he said. "I do not think that the music loving people of America will allow him to retire. When he has gained rest from the worries of political life, they will demand his return."

Inheritance of Insanity.
According to Doctor Keener, director of a large lunatic asylum in Ronmania, insanity, when transmitted, occurs at an earlier age in each successive generation. Of 250 pairs of parents, reports the Journal of the American Medical Association, and of-spring, 30 per cent of the offspring were found to have had their first attack of insanity before the age of twenty-five, a considerable portion being congenital imbeciles. Mothers transmitted much more frequently than fathers, and daughters are affected more often than sons; also the of-spring are affected at about half the age of the parent, being in most instances either congenital imbeciles or cases of adolescent insanity.

The World in Stone.
At Swansea in England is a conventional representation of the globe—conventional, that is, in design, but not in other respects, for the globe is hewn from rock, and measures 11 feet in diameter, and weighs 40 tons.
The history of this unique geographical record is interesting, for it is the result of the successful building operations of two local men who migrated to London, and amassed huge fortunes, then returned to their native town and lavished decorations in stone on every available part of Swansea.

He Explains.
"What was that pretty woman saying to you, huh?"
"She was telling me that she voted me my dear. Nothing more."

MAN'S BIG BLUFF

Mere Fiction That He Is Incapable of Housework.

Yet Throughout the History of the World, as Writers Point Out, He's Got Away With It.

When Adam dived and Eve spun, the fiction that man is incapable of housework was first established. It would be interesting to figure out just how many foot-pounds of energy men have saved themselves, since the creation of the world, by keeping up the pretense that a special knack is required for washing dishes and for dusting, and that the knack is wholly feminine. The pretense of incapacity is impudent in its audacity, and yet it works. Heywood Brown writes in McCall's Magazine.

Men build bridges and throw railroads across deserts, and yet they contend successfully that the job of sewing on a button is beyond them. Accordingly, they don't have to sew buttons.

It might be said, of course, that the safety of suspension bridges is so much more important than that of suspenders that the division of labor is only fair, but there are many of us who have never thrown a railroad in our lives, and yet swagger in all the glory of masculine achievement without undertaking any of the drudgery of odd jobs.

Probably men alone could never have maintained the fallacy of masculine incapacity without the aid of women. As soon as a woman's place was established, once known as woman's place, was established, women began to glorify and exaggerate its importance, by the pretense that it was all so special and difficult that no other sex could possibly begin to accomplish the tasks entailed. To this declaration men gave immediate and eager assent and they have kept it up. The most casual examination will reveal the fact that all the jokes about the horrible results of masculine cooking and sewing are written by men. It is all part of a great scheme of sex propaganda.

Naturally there are other factors.
Biology has been unscrupulous enough to discriminate markedly against women, and men have seized upon this advantage to press the belief that, since the bearing of children is exclusively the province of women, it must be that all the caring for them belongs properly to the same sex. Yet how ridiculous this is.

Most things which have to be done for children are of the simplest sort.
They should tax the intelligence of no one. Men profess a total lack of ability to wash baby's face simply because they believe there's no great fun in the business, at either end of the spoon. Protectively, man must go to the whole distance and pretend that there is not one single thing which he can do for baby. He must even maintain that he doesn't know how to hold one. From this pretense has grown the shockingly transparent fallacy that holding a baby correctly is one of the fine arts; or, perhaps, even more fearsome than that, a wonderful intuition, which has come down after centuries of effort to women only.

Seek Candle Light Shade.
At a committee of the National Electric Light association, investigating the question of tanning lamps for color, it seemed to be the general judgment of those to whom samples were submitted that a light even somewhat more distant from white than that of the carbon incandescent lamp was desirable, something indeed approximating the kerosene flame of earlier days.
The result of practical experience.

Marketing Poultry?

You wouldn't think of putting little chicks in an old tea-pot and expect them to do very well.
And neither will the money from these grown-up chicks grow in an old tea-pot or other hiding place.

But it will increase at the rate of 4 per cent in our Savings Department—and it will be safe from fire and thieves.
We will lend any wide awake man or woman on a considerable scale in the candle-flame lamp now brought out meets the color requirements very beautif-fully, and moreover, the coating given to the bulb is permanent in hue even when used on the gas-fitted lamps, thus possessing a virtue which most of the earlier experimental lamps did not have in a reliable degree. The loss in efficiency by the color-toned diffusing coating is relatively small, the specific consumption being less than half that of a carbon lamp of anything near the same color.

Building Model a Wonder.

What is claimed to be the most complete piece of model building ever attempted is that of Pershing square, New York, shown at the recent convention of hotel men in that city. The model is a large one and attempts to be a complete miniature. It was constructed from plans furnished by the public service commission and architects. Francis T. Gillling, a sculptor, worked on it for two years. The materials used for the miniature of Grand Central terminal are wood pulp and celluloid. The 15,000 windows of the skyscraper are shown, together with cars, lights, signal devices and other equipment of the subways. After the exposition the model is to be shown in other cities and may be taken abroad.

Suspicious Prosperity.

"Are there any 'moonshiners' about here?"

"I wouldn't make a positive statement as to that," said Squire Witherbee, "but since the eighteenth amendment went into effect a lot of moonshiners in this neighborhood who couldn't support their families before and pianos and finery for their wives and daughters, so I'll just let you draw

Beard and Mustache Defended.

Dr. Arjan Das, in the Indian Medical Journal, deprecates the fashion for cropped hair which is gaining in India.
He says hair is an additional ornament for a rich woman, and often the only ornament of the poor. The shaving of mustache and the epilation of nasal hairs is bad, as they prevent the introduction of even minute particles of dust entering the nose. Worse still is the increasing practice of shaving the beard, as this protects the throat and blisters dental neuralgia. Shaving has become the fashion both with Hindus and Mohammedans, though a bearded man among the latter is shown more respect.

IN THE GRAY AND BLUE SERGE

This is a smart trotteur suit of gray and blue duvetyne united with braiding. The new short jacket is one of fashion's latest cuts.

WHAT COLOR SHALL I WEAR?

Tone or Shade Should Be Chosen to Suit the Wearer; Harmony the Watchword.

Color has a decided influence on its wearer, for immediately after the question: "What shall I wear?" comes the all important one of the choice of color. What use is color without the right color, tone or shade or combination of both or all three? Most of us choose color for becomingness only.

FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST

The extremely décollete evening gown has disappeared.
Wired tunics of metal lace will be worn over satin slips.

Tailored and fluffy ruffles blouses share honors this season.
Paris favors the long, narrow muff with gathered ends.

Even bathing slippers will have the popular ankle strap.
Punch work embroidery on cloth and velvet is replacing other embroidery at smart gatherings.

Duvetyne vestees, pipings and facings, in some contrasting color, are used on serge and tricotone frocks.

Green and red seem to be the dominant colors for evening wear, particularly when velvet is the material chosen.

Grays and browns will be popular this spring, but the newest note of the season will be the very extensive revival of the use of pencil-striped materials.

One of the latest effects in French neckwear is a little plaited ruche of colored organdie, hemstitched around the edges and worn close about the throat.

A Handsome Girdle.

A perfectly plain navy blue silk dress has an unusual girdle as the only trimming. The neck is cut square and plain, the short sleeves are plain and the entire skirt and waist are plain, but to wear with this plain dress there is a smart girdle made of wide navy blue grosgrain ribbon with a picot edge and bordered by narrow gold-colored ribbon. This girdle is almost two and one-half inches wide, and is trimmed at intervals with velvet leaves and flowers made of cloth of gold and silver. The girdle or sash is worn a little below the waist line and is knotted only once, the ends being allowed to fall several inches below the bottom of the dress skirt. The girdle changes the dress into a smart costume. The dress and girdle could be made at home at comparatively small cost.

Now, What Do You Think He Said?

Here is that Three-minute Telephone conversation that you have heard so much about.

The first question was: "HOW IS BUSINESS?" Our answer was, "Business is fine. It is 11 per cent ahead of our sales on this date last year. There is a rumor that the shops are laying off a few more men and that things will be quiet until March or April. We don't know where all the business is coming from, but you bet, it is coming."

Our first question was "WHAT ABOUT PRICES?" The answer was: "Prices are way down on some things and way up on others. I am having an awful hard time to pick up a couple of car loads of furniture at the right prices but you know me; I won't buy until I get the stuff I want at the right prices. Believe me, I'll get it if it takes me a month. I have bought some dandy things at the right prices and when we unload the first car in Brainerd we will have the people thinking we are moving the Chicago Furniture Show into town. Watch for a half carload from Minneapolis. It will be there in about a week."

Below we have printed two letters which we have selected from several hundred and as both of these letters are exceptionally good, we have decided to award two prizes. The ladies whose letters are printed below may call at our store and select either a 50-piece set of Blue Bird Dishes or a $25.00 set of Aluminum.

NORTHERN HOME FUR. Co.,

Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Sirs:

This is my guess concerning the three-minute telephone conversation the store had with Mr. O'Brien over long distance:

(Telephone rings)

Store: Hello! Northern Home Furnishing Co.

Mr. O'Brien: Hello! This is Mr. O'Brien.

Store: How are you?

Mr. O'Brien: Fine! How is business?

Store: Great! The people of Brainerd surely do appreciate the reductions we have made on our stock. We are cleaning out a lot of the old stock. We will be ready for the new goods when they arrive. How are prices in Chicago?

Mr. O'Brien: The decline in prices is just about over. But when our several carloads of furniture arrive we will be prepared to give our customers and their friends some surprising bargains both in quality and price. Have made some wonderful purchases during the past week.

Store: Good! That has ever been our aim, to give our patrons the best there is for the price. Good luck to you!

Mr. O'Brien: Thanks. Goodbye!

Store: Goodbye!

Sincerely,

MRS. DAN PETERSON,
Box 45, Woodrow, Minn.

NORTHERN HOME FUR. CO.,

Gentlemen:

Answering your advertisement regarding the conversation with Mr. O'Brien over the telephone.

Your answer to this question "How's business?" you perhaps told him that you had noted a marked improvement lately, and that collections were up to expectations on pay day. His answer to your query regarding price, I would think, ran something like this: "I'm not here 'buying prices,' but when the first carload arrives and is properly displayed, the people of Brainerd will enjoy a real old-fashioned eye-opener, a regular pre-war thrill. One look at the quality, workmanship and price of these goods will dispel any notion you may harbor that we are other than 'technically' at war with anybody."

MRS. EDW. ANDERSON,

313 North 5th St.

Don't you think these letters are good? Both of them right to the point. It just goes to show that women appreciate good merchandise at the right prices.

Now, who will be the lucky one to win the $25.00 furniture prize? Remember, all you have to do is to write your name and address on a slip of paper with your guess as to how many pieces of furniture there will be in the first solid carload and mail it in to us. Do it tonight. This prize will be awarded very soon, as we are advised the factories are now preparing for shipment.

WALL STREET BLAST
BLAMED ON RADICALS

New York, Feb. 19.—The Wall street explosion last September which took a toll of 39 lives and injured nearly 200, was "a dastardly crime intentionally committed," in the opinion of the grand jury which investigated the disaster. Upon its discharge today the jury expressed conviction that an "infernal machine was brought to Wall street in a wagon and there abandoned."

PLAN FARM LABOR
SERVICE BUREAU

(By United Press)

Wheaton, Minn., Feb. 19.—Farm bureau representatives here are planning a farm labor service bureau which would keep track of fluctuations in wages and supply the demands of farm labor in the northwest during the rush season. Every community in North and South Dakota and Minnesota would be "covered" by the bureau. It is estimated farmers would be saved thousands of dollars annually by keeping informed on wages. The supply of labor could largely be controlled by eliminating surplus labor in some sections and shortage in others. No effort will be made to fix wages, it was said.

LYLE BINDER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Little Falls, Minn., Feb. 19.—Lyle Binder, proprietor of the Imperial Baking company of Brainerd, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the car which he was driving to this city turned on its side three and a half miles north of Little Falls. He was unconscious for several hours but regained consciousness this morning.

J. W. O'Brien, John Kollas and J. H. Cummings, three other residents of Brainerd, were badly bruised and cut. The car was traveling between thirty and forty miles an hour and in turning out of the way for another car, turned over three times and landed on its side in a ditch.

NEW DIPLOMATS
MUST BE CHOSEN

SELECTION OF AMBASSADORS TO
THE GREAT POWERS WILL BE ONE OF HARDING'S TASKS.

These the President Always Considers—New Commercial Policies and Economic Conditions Must Be Studied by the Appointees.

By EDWARD S. CLARK.
Washington.—One of the high duties of President-elect Harding will be to choose from among his wealthy Republican fellow citizens men who are competent to act as ambassadors to the great powers of earth, or as ministers to the lesser powers. The word "wealthy" is not used invidiously, for everybody knows that no American can take one of these places unless he has an abundance of private means to pay his necessary expenses and to keep up the traditions of his office.

The new ambassadors must be men who understand business in its intricate commercial sense, and who understand also the finesse of diplomacy. The work of an ambassador today is exacting. It requires keen insight, tact, suavity and well-balanced judgment. The task of choosing such men will be a hard one. If men who are not up to standard are chosen, the United States will suffer in a hundred and one ways.

Conditions in Europe are just what everybody knows that they are. The man who coined the word "chaos" had just such an inspiration for the coinage as the conditions which now exist all over the world. The ambassadors and ministers of the United States, present and to come, will have as a part of their high work the effort to aid in bringing the proverbial "order out of chaos."

Considering Racial Prejudice.

It might seem that the appointing power might rise superior to the fact that racial prejudices exist in the United States, but Presidents, like most other men holding elective offices in the United States, seemingly have to "consider politics." In appointing a minister to Great Britain, or to France, or to Italy, or to any other country, a President of the United States today seems to be compelled to think first about a lot of things which men here say ought not to enter into the matter of the appointment at all.

Years ago James Russell Lowell was appointed ambassador to the Court of St. James. His forbears came to this country from England two or three centuries ago. When he arrived at his post he said something about feeling as if he were getting back home. He meant merely that he felt as if he were getting back to the home of his ancestors, and that he felt in him the pulse of heredity. It seemingly was a harmless remark, but it raised a perfect tempest of criticism and resentment in the United States.

The men whom Mr. Harding will appoint to ambassadorial and ministerial positions will be compelled to undertake the consideration of a new commercial policy for their country. More than this they will be compelled to give a deep study to the existing economic conditions in the countries to which they are accredited. The conditions which make trade possible are as different today from those in 1913 in England, France, Italy, Japan and elsewhere, as it is possible for such conditions to be.

Some One Must Be Sent to Germany.

One of the problems which ultimately will probably meet the new President is that of the appointment of an ambassador to Germany. Today we still technically are at war with that land. Something like 300,000 American soldiers were killed or wounded by the bullets and the gas of the Germans, and nobody knows how many of the enemy went down before the muzzles and bayonet attacks of our boys in the Argonne and east of the Meuse. War rancors continue for some time.

The new ambassador to Germany, after the peace treaty finally is signed, will not conduct his work from "a flowery bed of ease." It is probable that the man who gets the appointment will deserve the sympathy of his fellow countrymen.

It is said in Washington that Mr. Harding may select for the German embassy a man who has represented us in that country before. The President-elect's advisers, it is said, have declared that this will be the "best way out of it."

There have been some little frictions with France since the day of the armistice, but they have not engendered much heat of controversy. In fact the new ambassador to France probably will have an easier time than any of his fellow ambassadors. The traditional friendship with France is a real friendship.

Italy presents another problem today, for here conditions have changed materially. The Italian post, however, may not be as hard a one to fill as some of the others. Then there is Japan, and while diplomacy seeks to minimize every reported trouble with the eastern country, there are troubles nevertheless. A tactful man will be needed in Japan, and one who understands the Japanese temperament and state methods.

Otis Skinner and Notable Cast Give Wonderful Performance in Knoblock Drama

"Kismet," the super-special picture starring Otis Skinner, which opened at the New Park theatre last night, is the wonder film of the age. A wonderful story, wonderful star, wonderful cast and wonderfully produced. From the enthusiastic manner in which the audience received the picture to play last night, the two days run at the New Park theatre will be all too short. Louis J. Gasnier, who directed "Kismet," has attained a perfection of detail that could not be improved upon.

This is Mr. Skinner's first picture. It was with difficulty that he was persuaded to leave his beloved stage to appear on the screen.

The prelude which introduced the picture was beautiful, the curtain upon being raised showed a beautiful interior set with four Oriental girls in costume, the lighting effect and all giving a very rich and beautiful effect.

New Park Sunday

"The Gay Lord Quex," from the noted stage success by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, presents Tom Moore in the stellar role in this new Goldwyn picture which will be shown at the New Park theatre tomorrow.

In this production Tom Moore is seen as the type of wooer that popular opinion has named its favorite. His adventures in Cupid's realm are frequent and merry, and just spicy enough to bring out the humorous side of his entanglements when his several sweethearts are brought together.

Lyceum Tonight

"The Challenge of the Law," by E. Lloyd Sheldon, the latest Fox production starring that breezy Western actor, William Russell, is at the Lyceum theatre tonight only. This is a Western picture which the management strongly recommends, for it contains sentiment that is clean and wholesome, it abounds in stirring action, and its love theme is punctuated with situations that thrill.

Lyceum Sunday

When the remarkable human beings who live in the "melstrom" of events of a great city seek to do romantic things they go to the country for that purpose. When country persons are inspired with the same ambition they travel cityward.

A dramatic portrayal of this fact is given by Vitagraph's new feature, "Slaves of Pride," which will be presented at the Lyceum theatre tomorrow afternoon and night.

Allee Joyce, the star, plays the role of Patricia Leeds.

Cause of Forest Fires.

Of thousands of fires only a fraction are due to lightning and unpreventable accident, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington, which adds that the great majority of the fires that are constantly enlarging our deserts of barren sand, scrub oak, chaparral and briars, are due to the carelessness of human beings—due, not only to the carelessness of persons who are directly responsible for the fires, but to the indifference of the great body of people whose composite opinion permits the campers, the farmers, the railroads, and others to start and leave or lose control of the fires that do the damage.

"Overland Route."

The term "Overland Route" was applied to the old-time route to California as distinguished from the route via the Isthmus of Panama. The term was first used, however, for the route from Europe to India via Egypt, the desert and Suez. It was in contradistinction to the Cape route (by the Cape of Good Hope), which was by water only. It became more applicable in 1837, when the route was across the European continent by Marseilles; in 1845, when that by Trieste was followed; and in 1872, when that via the Mount Cenis tunnel and Brindisi came into use. The opening of the Suez canal in 1869 having all but superseded the Cape route, the term "overland route" as applied to this route is now obsolete.

Grasshoppers in Glacier.

At the headwaters of the East and West Rosebud rivers, in the Bear-tooth mountains of Montana, is a glacier, known as Grasshopper glacier, from the fact that there are thousands of grasshoppers imbedded in the perpetual ice in as perfect a manner as if preserved in alcohol for exhibition. Scientists believe the insects were caught in the storms in attempting to cross the mountain range.

BOWLING NOTES

As the Fraternal League bowlers are striving to the utmost to win the supremacy the contest grows gradually warmer as there are only three more weeks in which to decide the issue.

The Elks again on Monday night strengthened their lead by winning two out of three from the Eagles. The K. C.'s, also won two out of three from the Workmen which places them in second place a tie with the Eagles. The Workmen are only two games behind and the K. P. who again won three straight from the Moose are only one game behind the Workmen.

The outstanding feature of last Monday's games was the unusual scores piled up by R. E. Stephenson who got 621 pins or an average of 207.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

STATUS OF CROSBY

Fan Writes to Duluth News Tribune Sporting Editor, Wants to Get Into a Range League

The following letter comes from a Crosby baseball fan, who is anxious to have both Duluth and Crosby in some league, and is addressed to the sporting editor of the Duluth News Tribune:

Will you please agitate the matter relative to rearranging the Range league to include Duluth and Crosby? This is a logical proposition, as it makes a six-club league with a complete circuit. Dan Peterson is in favor of it, and by playing three games a week, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, it would give all towns of the league a good brand of baseball without a great deal of expense.

"We are putting practically the same team in the field again, but if we cannot get in this league, we will have to quit because of lack of competition locally, due to the fact that none of the neighboring towns will have teams of any consequence, and you also know that this was the 'Clydes' trouble last year.

"Starting this spring we will have direct bus connections with the Mesaba range, and it is only a four hour drive there.

"Financially Crosby would be one of the best clubs in the league."

Don't Be a Lobster.
We frequently hear used in a slang way, "he is a regular lobster." Now there may be more truth than slang in the expression, because there are a lot of human lobsters in the world. A lobster when left high and dry among the rocks has not enough energy to work his way back to the sea, but waits for the tide to bring the sea to him. If it does not come, he stays right where he is and dies, too lazy to put forth any effort himself. Many men are stranded on the rocks of business. Instead of putting forth their own energies they are waiting for some grand friendly billow of good fortune to set them adrift.—Thrift Magazine.

Some People Believe This.
Select the number of stars in a constellation, add to it the number of the date of your birth, and divide the whole by 12. Keep the result in your mind until you shake hands with some one, then add the letters in that person's name to what you have. Divide by seven and you will get the number of months before you are married. If it should run over 13, add be even, you will marry a young man; if uneven, an old man. If over twelve 13 and even, he will be red headed; if uneven, he will be bald and rich.—Chicago Tribune.

ISADOR BERGER Distinguished Violinist to Appear Under Musical Club Auspices at New Park Theatre

One of the rarest musical treats that the citizens of Brainerd have ever had offered may be enjoyed on Sunday afternoon when Isador Berger, the violinist, accompanied by Hubert Carlin at the piano, will give the program under arrangements made by the Brainerd Musical Club.

Mr. Berger has been called upon to appear before the crowned heads of Europe, he has played in the hall in London in which the world's greatest artists express their various musical talents, and he has been connected with the best musical organizations in the United States.

Not often does a city of the size of Brainerd have the opportunity of entertaining so distinguished an artist and sedem do citizens who live outside of the larger centers of population have the pleasure of hearing men of such unusual ability. There is reason to believe that the citizens of this city will appreciate this opportunity and fill every seat in the New Park Theatre on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The program that will be offered by Mr. Berger is printed below.

PEQUOT DEFEATED BY BRAINERD HIGH

(Contributed by D. H.)

Owing to the fact that the Royalton team cancelled their game at nine o'clock Friday morning, the local high first team was not seen in action last evening as a game with some other neighboring school could not be scheduled on such short notice.

The second team boys, although outweighed easily defeated the Pequot first team by a score of 33 to 2. For Brainerd, Capt. Hill, Hess, McCaffery and Hendrickson did the scoring while Hiekkenen and Sargent made up the defense which the Pequot boys were unable to penetrate. Capt Hill, had ten field goals to his credit while Hess made four.

The local second team has now ten victories out of eleven starts to their credit and are one of the fastest, if not the fastest teams in the district.

On next Friday, the local first team will journey to Bemidji where they will try to even honors as Bemidji has defeated Brainerd once this season by a close score.

Neighboring basketball teams results last evening:

"SABBATH DAY" NOT SUNDAY

Modern Writers Display an Amazing Carelessness in Their Misuse of the Words.

In English there is not a more definite word than sabbath, yet it is used with an amazing carelessness as a synonym for Sunday. The writers and translators of the New Testament use sabbath correctly, says a writer in the Brooklyn Eagle.

It is always Hebrew and in no instance is it associated with the New Testament dispensation—now universally known as Christianity. Indeed the apostles were severely rebuked by the Jews for breaking the sabbath. Christians cannot break the sabbath, for they do not have it to break.

Sabbath and Sunday are observed on separate days, but this is not necessary, as astronomy shows that the identity of days from year to year is impossible; since the year and day are incommensurable. The leap years show that any given date varies a day; even this does not correct the dates, as other corrections—the centennial leap years—become necessary. There is a still deeper reason for discarding the severity of the sabbath, namely, our seven-day week is uncounted thousands of years older than the book of Genesis. Evidence is very strong that it was founded on quartering the sidereal month—the "true month." Long before anything even approaching astronomy arose man noticed that the moon slowly moved into

COVERED HEADS IN CHURCH

Before the Year 1661 Men Did Not Remove Their Hats During Religious Services.

About 1661 an agitation commenced to have men remove their hats in church—Pepys makes gentle fun of it. The custom was first to remove the hat to cover the eyes in prayer, and later it was taken off altogether.

The introduction of the wig helped the custom—for it proved difficult to keep one's hat on over a tousled mass of false curls. This also led to large hats with plumes going out of style.

Then, instead of wearing hats indoors, men went to the other extreme, and often carried them in their hands when out of doors. The Puritans in England continued to wear their broad-brimmed hats, however, indoors and out.

Men's hats and clothing were changed with the French Revolution; wigs went out, and then with the rise of Napoleon, dress became military in style. In 1815, during the Restoration period, arose the "stovepipe hat," and breeches, at the same time began to be worn to the ankle.

LIGHTNING MADE A SNAPSHOT

Picture of Railroad Yards Formed or Window—Explanation Given by Photographer.

The recent stories of the picture of a wreath that appeared on a window pane in a Columbus residence, and which glass experts pronounced nothing more than a defect in the glass which had been there from the time it was made, but only noticed after there had been a death in the residence, recalls to a prisoner in the penitentiary a similar case that came to his attention when he was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona, Pa. It was traced to another though equally scientific cause.

One night the private car of President Roberts of that railroad was shunted onto a siding in the yards at Altoona and before morning there came a heavy thunderstorm with intensely vivid lightning. Next morning when the cleaning crew began cleaning the car there was found on one of the window panes a very good picture of the yards that lay directly in front of it. It was just like a fairly well-developed photographic plate, and there could be no question but that the scene in the picture was the yards before it.

A photographer who was called to look at it, concluded that there had been a thin film of oil on the window, which in some way became sensitive to intense light and a flash of lightning had imprinted the scene before the window on the pane. — Columbus Dispatch.

CALLED DIRECT GIFT OF GOD

Arabs Have Pretty Legend Concerning the Origin of Their Famous Breed of Horses.

Abd-El-Kader, a man of rare intelligence, descendant of Mahomet and valiant leader of the Algerian tribes against the French for 15 years, wrote a book on the Arab horse. A French general once questioned him regarding the origin of that splendid breed and received the following reply, says Our Dumb Animals:

"Know, then, that among us it is admitted that God created the horse out of the winds and He created Adam out of the dust. This cannot be disputed. Many prophets have proclaimed that when God would create the horse He said to the south wind: 'I will bring forth out of thee a creature; be thou, therefore, condensed.'

"Then came the angel Gabriel, and taking a handful of the matter, presented it to God, who formed there-with a brown bay horse and said: 'I name thee Horse and create thee Arab and give thee a bay color. I attach blessing to the forelock which falls between thine eyes; thou shalt be lord of all the animals. Thou shalt fly without wings, and from thy back shall proceed riches.' "MADHOUSE OF CRUELTY AND DESPAIR" AMERICAN OFFICER CALLS ARMENIA

Captain Paxton Hibben Tells Touching Story of Homeless, Starving People Succored by Near East Relief.

"Emaciated little girls with pinched and unreal faces, their clothing a mere piece of torn sackcloth held together with thorns for pins, paraded listlessly along the side of the train with uplifted, scrawny arms and cupped hands, whining a scarcely audible prayer for food. Their great dark eyes looked out from under tumbled hair, uncombed for months, perhaps years, seeing neither the train nor us. God knows what they saw, those fathomless eyes of a girlhood that had never been—God knows what they had seen in the years of wandering from place to place, unprotected, unloved, uncared for!"

Thus Captain Paxton Hibben describes the journey of the United States Army officers who accompanied Major General James G. Harbord into Armenia in an article, "Salvaging a People," in Holland's Magazine, Dallas, Texas. Captain Hibben is a well-known writer and war correspondent, author of "Constantine I and the Greek People," who was with the Historical Section, General Staff, A. E. F., during the war.

People Lack Everything

"These desperate, destitute people who have no land to cultivate, no food to eat and no clothes to wear, and have been in that condition for five years, now," he calls the more than half a million Armenian refugees wandering from place to place seeking food and shelter that does not exist. "Under the old Tsarist system, the peasants plowed with a charred stick plow, drawn by three to six oxen or oxen. Now the oxen are dead—they were killed for food long ago. There are no honest-to-goodness plows, no cultivators, no reapers, no binders. Nothing is left in this country of misfortune. Captain Hibben declares that the Armenians are not even a broken pane of window glass—nothing but the detritus and the detritus of war and destruction."

Captain Hibben describes the arrival of the American Near East Relief workers at Erivan, the capital of the unhappy Armenian Republic, with its war-gutted railway station crowded with hundreds of homeless refugees.

Hundreds of Homeless

"All about, on the ground, close to the walls for shelter from winds, under freight cars, in the meager covering of dusty hedges, in the open—everywhere—little groups lay on the dry earth. Hundreds and hundreds, almost all women, with a few children. Near them pitiful bundles of rags that constituted the whole of their worldly possessions: three stones and a bit of rusted tin made the stove upon which what cooking there was to do—little enough—was done. They lived where they lay at night—without shelter or privacy or anything they could call their own. Sometimes, seemingly for no reason, a little group would pack up the handful of rags that served as cover, they climbed on freight cars and went somewhere else, only to find things the same or worse. Again they settled down in abject, patient, incurious misery, to await—God knows what!"

"Along the road from the station to the town more groups of refugees were camped. In appalling misery. To the right of the road was a great, barren field, where huge holes had been dug and filled in again. Where they were new, mounds of earth marked them; where they are old, they had sunk into hollows. I pointed them out to my companion. This is where they bury those that cannot stick it out, those who are picked up every morning, still lying on the ground where they died during the night. There are good many of them every day. A cart makes the rounds of the streets and the parks each morning, and picks them up and brings them here—the dead, who could not wait. But it is not so bad as it was. Nothing like."

Armenians Oldest Christians

"You have to remember always," Captain Hibben says, "that Armenia was an organized nation and the Armenians a conscious people a thousand years before there was a single organized nation in Europe, save Greece, and Rome. For twelve hundred of their twenty-five hundred years of existence as a people, they were independent and self-governing. They were a Christian people in the year 33 A. D. The Armenian kingdom was the first state in the world to adopt Christianity as the national church—in the year 301. They invented their own alphabet—such as it is—at the same time. They have a literature older than the English or the French or the German or the Spanish, and ages older than the Slavish, and an architecture and a music of their own. They were bankers and traders and artisans when the inhabitants of the British Isles were painted blue, and the people of France and Germany went about clothed in skins."

But now all is changed, the American officer writes. With all of their proud tradition the Armenians, victims of an incredible history of persecution by the Turks and betrayed by the other Christian nations of the world, are wholly dependent upon the generosity of the people of the United States.

Near East Relief Work

"There are thirty-three Near East Relief orphanages, large and small, in Erivan—and about 7,000 kiddies that the Americans are looking after. Through the Near East Relief, over fifty millions of dollars have gone to help the Armenians in the past three years. Over five hundred Armenian women and men are working in the Near East, obtrusively but effectively, to keep a strange and alien people from starvation and destruction. One hundred ten thousand little children are being fed by the Americans, sixty-three hospitals are kept running, with 6,522 beds, always full. And when an appeal is made to the great heart of the American people to keep this work going—the money is always there."

"For the idealism that was roused in those in every land whose people went forth to fight for what they believed to be right and true, is there still. The formalists at Versailles forgot it; they dealt not in human realities, but in the artificial, impalpable theories of boundaries, governments, spheres of influence, secret agreements and zones of exploitation."

"But an American girl sitting on the mud sidewalk of Erivan, with a dead woman's head in her lap, discovered in a moment what those pitiful old men at Versailles will never know—that the world is a human place, and its people are all kin."

Captain Hibben appeals for the continuation of the work of mercy being done by the Near East Relief, through subscription to Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of that organization, 1 Madison Avenue, New York.
